Product Highlights

1202-36 Lateral File

This two-drawer lateral file features a gang-lock system, allowing a single key to lock both drawers simultaneously for enhanced security. Equipped with filing bars, these drawers can easily transition from hanging legal files to hanging letter files, providing versatile storage options. Designed with the same robust security specifications as Fenco's undercounter line, this lateral file is a stylish yet practical addition to any workspace.

1204-36 Lateral File

This four-drawer lateral file features a gang-lock system that locks all drawers simultaneously with a single key for enhanced security. The built-in anti-tip safety feature ensures that only one drawer can be opened at a time, preventing the unit from tipping forward. Whether you need standard filing storage or customized options like half-height lateral drawers with card filing inserts, Fenco can meet your specific needs.
